Abstract: Now more than ever we need to be able to communicate science clearly and effectively, not only to one another, but to the public. I will explore the role of the arts in science communication, focusing on how to engage undergraduate students in communicating science, and also how the arts help to involve students in thinking about why science matters to them.